

Style Profile

ALEXA JAMES

Tell us about YOU.

I am the Development Director for the WellHouse, which rescues women and children from the sex trafficking industry all over the USA. I've lived in Birmingham all my life, graduated valedictorian from Brooklane Baptist Academy, studied at Southeastern Bible College and have a Ministry Degree from Highlands College. I have two boys who love Jesus and are world changers and I have a beautiful grandson.

Art is a passion and I love to paint in acrylic and am learning oil. I also enjoy playing piano and Zumba – just not at the same time!

How do you 'Collage'?

I've been a long time client with Collage and I even purchased my whole wardrobe from Collage when I was an account manager with Clear Channel, many years ago. My shopping experience was so pleasant and the clothes were fashionable and business savvy.

I really appreciate the quality that Tracy's staff requires for their stores. As my career has gone from major Account Management with Fedex/Kinkos to the Development Director with the WellHouse, Collage has always been my first shopping stop.
